Introduction

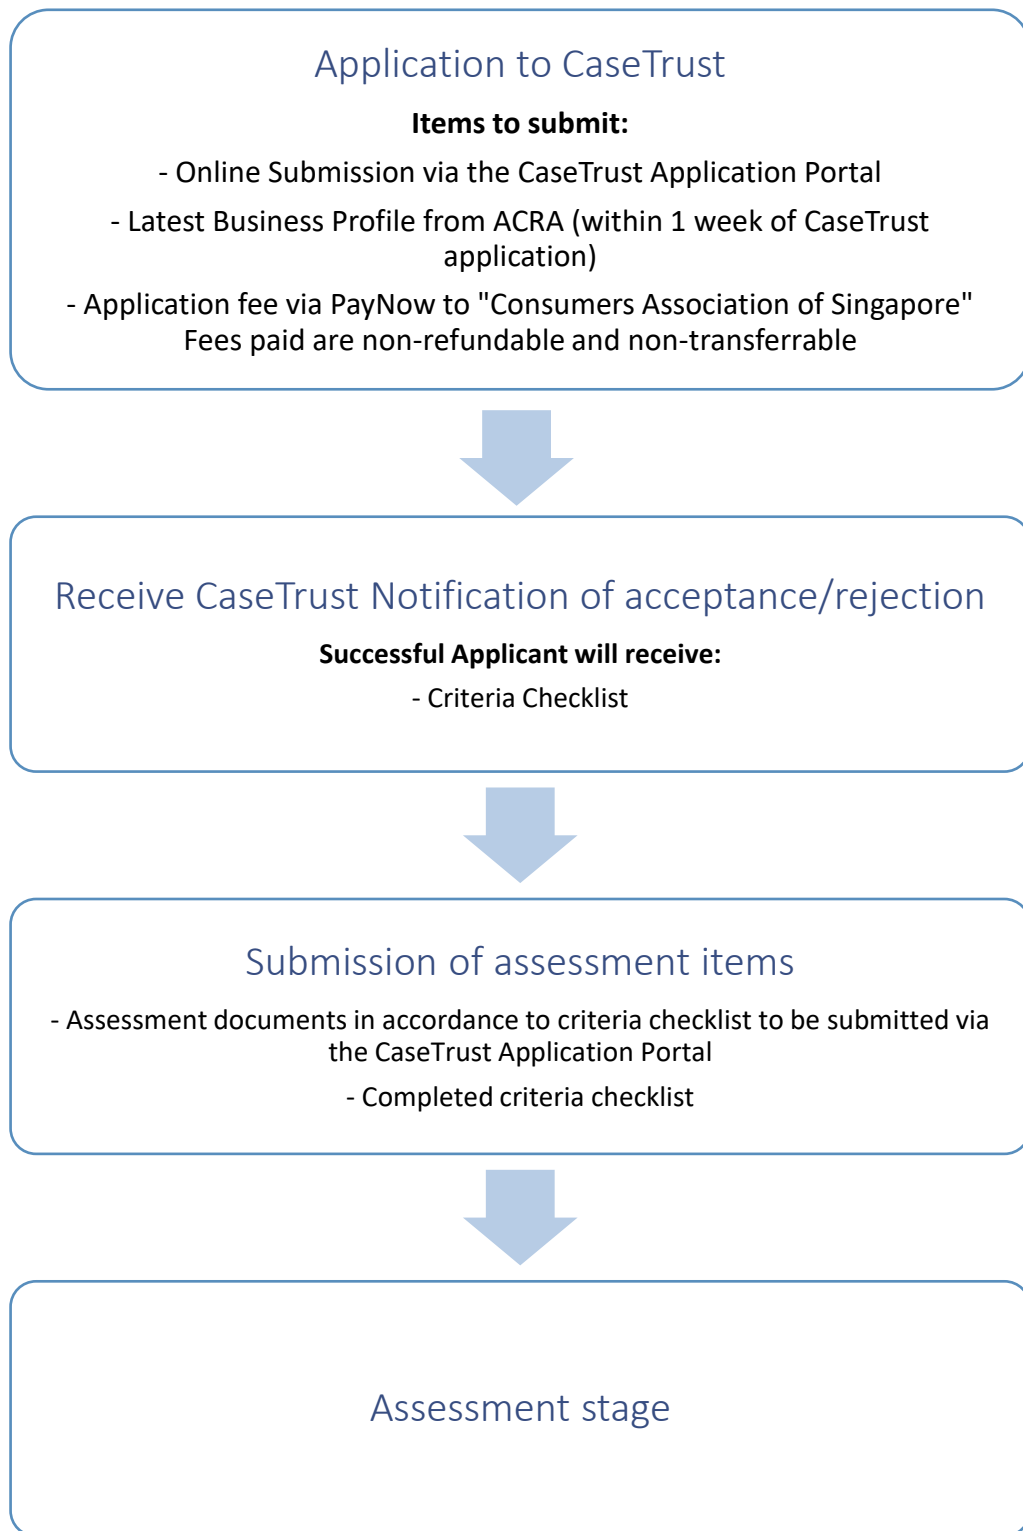

The CaseTrust Accreditation Schemes developed by the Consumers Association of Singapore (CASE), aim to safeguard consumers' interests by promoting fair trading and transparency to consumers.

To further this mission, we have introduced the CaseTrust Bronze tier, specifically designed for skill-based or smaller businesses. This new tier provides consumers with confidence and assurance that these businesses adhere to basic ethical standards and responsible practices. This expansion aims to extend our accreditation schemes to more businesses and industries so that Bronze-accredited businesses can likewise offer assurance and confidence to their consumers and be recognised as bona fide businesses, thereby extending consumer protection across a broader range of industries.

CaseTrust Bronze covers essential areas such as store policies, ethical advertising, and dispute resolution procedures. Unique criteria, such as a '5-day cooling-off period' and a 'no selling during treatment policy,' are included to offer additional protection, particularly in the beauty and wellness industry. Tradesmen in the renovation industry must meet industry training standards and regulations where applicable.

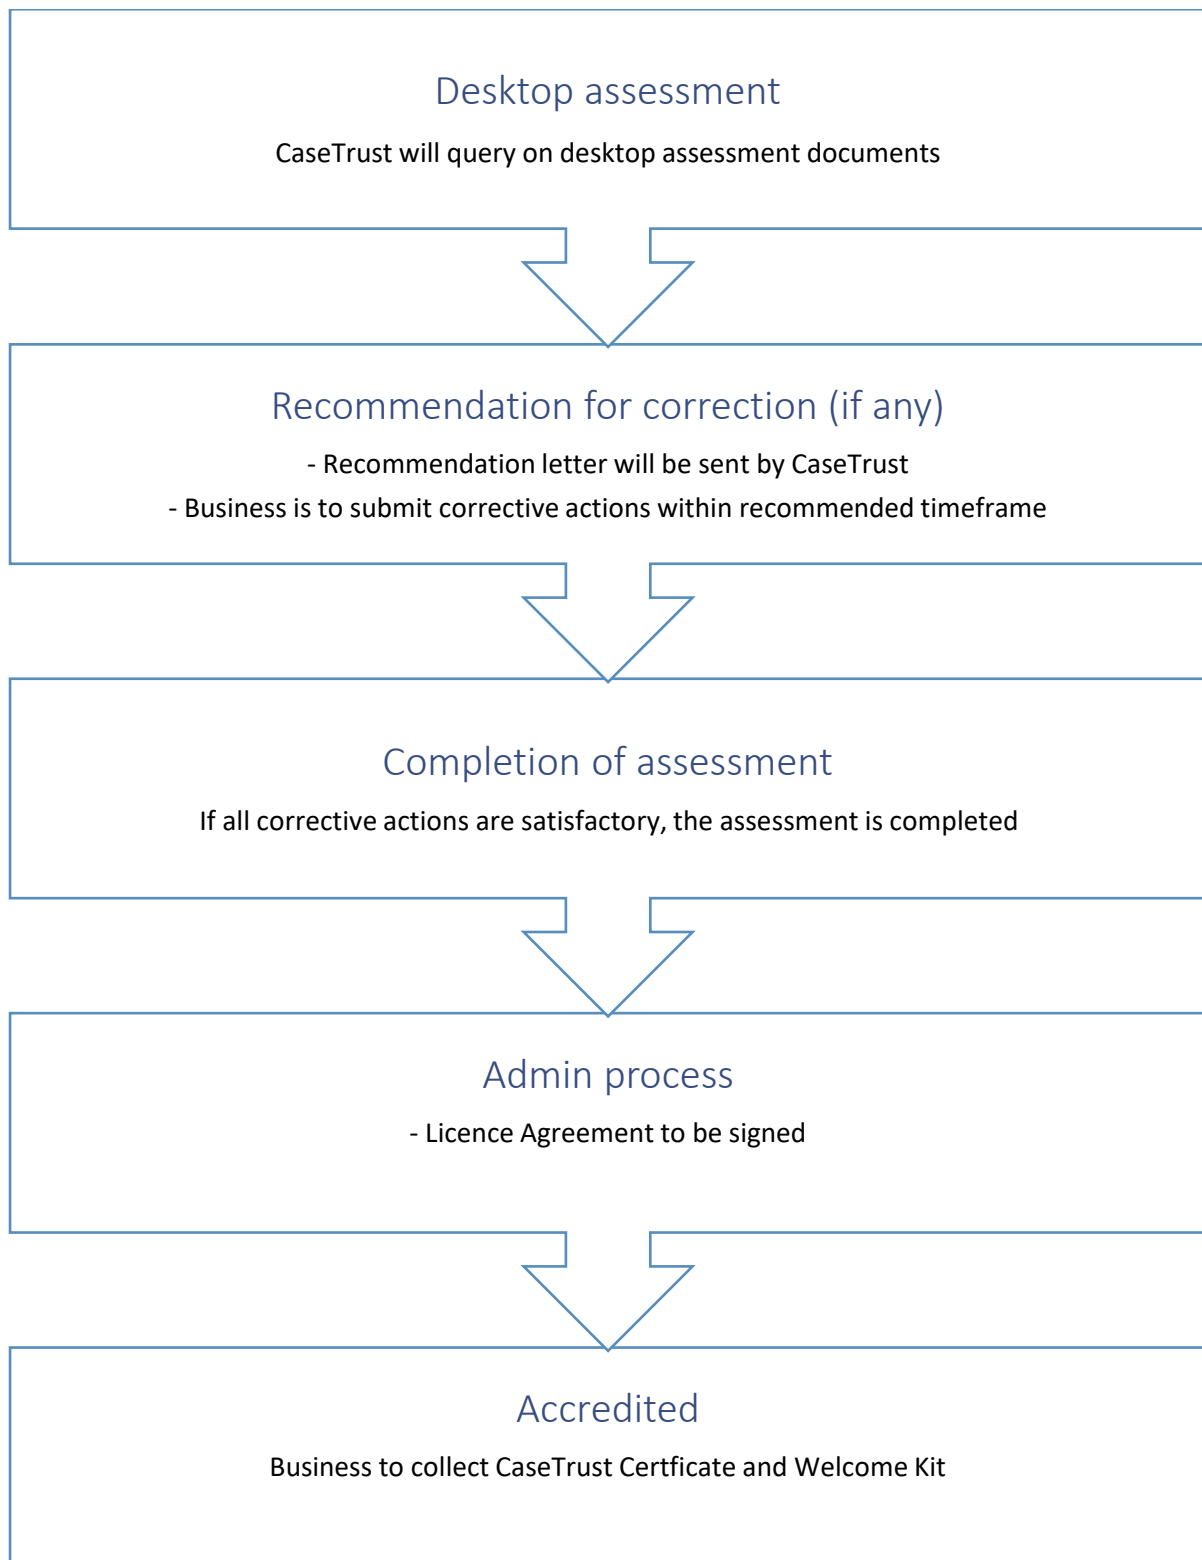

With the introduction of the Bronze tier, our existing accreditation schemes will be renamed Silver, while the Gold tier continues to represent the pinnacle of industry leadership in customer service and business excellence. Businesses are encouraged to upgrade to the CaseTrust Silver or Gold schemes for a more robust set of assessment criteria to give its consumers added assurance and confidence.
